

Direct Line Group prohibits any political involvement or donations to any political parties on the company's behalf.

We are a member of the Association of British Insurers (ABI) who amongst other things, lobby politicians and the Government on industry-wide issues. From time to time we engage with Politicians from all Parties and Civil Servants to highlight issues of concern to our own business interests. Any such activity is approved by senior management and any expenditure is recorded in the gifts and hospitality register.